ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN URBAN ECONOMICS

The Department of Economics

POSITION SUMMARY

The Department of Economics at Occidental College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Urban Economics with appointment to begin August 2024.

Occidental College is a national liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Candidates must be committed to outstanding teaching and productive scholarly activity.

SUMMARY OF DUTIES, RESPONSIBILITIES AND GOALS

The successful candidate will teach five courses annually (a 2:2 load in the first year), including a selection of classes that could include first-year writing seminars, introductory economics, intermediate economics, or other upper-division electives in the candidate’s area of urban economics expertise.

We value interdisciplinary connection to other programs. Our faculty are also expected to contribute to and participate in the life and development of the department, advise students, serve on faculty governance committees, and participate in the broader college and disciplinary communities.

All faculty are eligible for a pre-tenure leave in the fourth year, pending favorable review and a one-semester sabbatical every fourth year after tenure.

QUALIFICATIONS

Minimum Qualifications

1. Ph.D. in Economics or related field or expected completion of the degree requirements by August 2024.
2. Demonstrated commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching.
3. A record of, or potential for, scholarly research and publication.

SALARY RANGE

Expected Salary Range: $96,000 - $105,000

If you are offered this position at Occidental College, your final base salary compensation will be determined based on factors such as skills, education, experience, and/or geographic location. In addition to those factors, Occidental complies with applicable pay equity laws and considers internal equity among current employees when developing the final offer. Please keep in mind that the range mentioned above is the base salary range.
for the role. Hiring at the maximum of the range would not be typical in order to allow for future and continued salary growth.
