

Research Assistant

Kinesiology Department

Fall 2025 and Spring 2026

Duties/Responsibilities:

The Science Communication Research Assistant will work with Kinesiology department faculty and staff and will primarily be responsible for gathering information and coordinating distribution of announcements via social media, the Bioscience information screen, and the Bioscience bulletin boards. They will check in with the Kinesiology faculty weekly to collect information and work with the Kinesiology Department Manager to ensure announcements are posted in the appropriate places. The Science Communication Research Assistant will also work with Kinesiology faculty to create social media content to highlight ongoing research in the department, media coverage of new publications / projects, and professional developments of the Kinesiology alumni.

Qualifications:

- Experience with Canva, Microsoft Office Suite, Instagram, website content best-practices.
- Completion of 100-level Kinesiology course.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Interest and/or experience communicating science to the general public.

Start date: 8/26/25

End date: 5/9/26

Work Schedule: TBD with Professor Yingling

Hours Per Week: up to 5 hours per week

Starting pay rate: $17.87 per hour

Work Award: Not required

To apply, please submit student employment application to Krizia Oasin oasin@oxy.edu