

Environmental Health and Justice Research Assistant

UEP/UEPI

Summer 2023

Duties/Responsibilities:

UEP faculty conduct applied and policy relevant research on topics related to environmental justice, environmental health, and urban planning. This position requires a student researcher to support environmental health and justice research for course development and associated faculty research such as conducting background literature research, entering articles into Zotero, help with meeting planning, support for basic grant writing, maintaining webpages, and data entry. Student should be able to search the academic literature, including the environmental health science literature.

Qualifications:

- Knowledge and experience using Zotero.
- Able to parse through basic scientific and social scientific research on environmental health and have good writing skills.

Start date: May 14, 2023

End date: August 19, 2023

Work Schedule: TBA

Hours Per Week: 5-10

Starting pay rate: $16.04/hr

Note: Effective July 1, 2023 the pay rate will be $16.90/hr

To apply, please submit student employment application, cover letter (paragraph of interest), and resume to Professor Shamasunder at bhavna@oxy.edu and uep@oxy.edu. The position will be open until filled.