Students may pursue a single major that combines the study of two languages, or a language and linguistics. Possible focuses may include Chinese, French, German, Japanese, Russian, Spanish, and linguistics.

WHAT ELSE CAN YOU DO WITH THIS MAJOR?

- Civil Service Employee
- CIA Agent
- Librarian
- Fashion Buyer
- Social Service Worker
- Production Supervisor
- Translator
- FBI Agent
- Lawyer
- Archivist
- Interpreter
- Tour Guide
- Art Historian
- Language
- Copywriter
- Banker
- Teacher
- Intelligence Specialist
- Foreign Service Officer
- International Consultant
- Foreign Correspondent
- Anthropologist
- Program Coordinator
- International Student Advisor
- Professor
- Research Specialist
- Private Chef
- Speech-Language Pathologist
- Office Manager
- Dance Instructor
- Attorney at Law
- Regional Marketing Director
- Senior Strategist, Advertising
- Professor

WHO HIRE GROUP LANGUAGE MAJORS?

- Chambers of Commerce
- Advertising Agencies
- Foreign Exchange Programs
- Colleges/Universities
- Libraries
- Department of Defense
- Museums
- FBI
- Hospitality Industry Companies
- Investment Firms
- Commercial Airlines
- Radio/TV/Film Companies
- Banks
- Civil Service Commission
- Air/Bus/Rail Lines

GROUP LANGUAGE IN ACTION

- Take a variety of related courses outside your major: e.g., DWA, Politics, and Sociology.
- Be familiar with current events and travel to the countries of your target language.
- Practice becoming more fluent by reading books, training sessions, using videos/film.
- Develop a sense of business skills.
- Develop research skills and be able to analyze problems.
- Develop good communication skills.
- Find out about each organization of interest.
- Consult a directory of American firms abroad and foreign firms based in the USA.
- Work in an international company in a U.S. location.
- Volunteer through the Center for Community Based Learning or the Office of Community Engagement.
- Tutor in the Center for Academic Excellence.
- Find membership opportunities cultural clubs/ organizations or other interest areas.
- Endeavor to be appointed to college committees.