Who Can Apply:  To be eligible for the British Marshall Scholarship, a student must:
   • Be citizens of the United States of America at the time they apply.
   • By the time they take up their scholarship in September, 2015, hold their first undergraduate degree from an accredited four-year college or university in the United States.
   • Have obtained a grade point average of not less than 3.7 (or A-) on their undergraduate degree.
   • Have graduated from their first undergraduate college or university after April 2012.
   • Not have studied for, or hold a degree or degree equivalent qualification from a British University.
   • Candidates must be nominated by their college or university.

Description:  The British Marshall Scholarship was designed to finance young Americans of high ability to study for a degree in the United Kingdom. The Marshall Scholarship will award up to forty scholarships for two years of study in any discipline at the graduate level, leading to the award of a British university degree. Marshall Scholars strengthen the enduring relationship between the British and American peoples, their governments and their institutions. They are future leaders who are talented, independent and well rounded and their time as scholars will enhance their intellectual and personal growth.

Award Amount:  The scholarship provides for two years of a personal allowance to cover residence and cost of living expenses including transportation to and from the residence and place of study, payment of tuition fees, and books, a travel stipend for approved travel related to studies, and fares for travel back and forth to the United States.
