

Gravitational Wave Research at Oxy

Work with Professor Madison on exciting topics in gravitational wave astronomy. Gravitational waves are ripples in the very fabric of space created by some of the most extreme systems in the Universe. Learn about supermassive black holes, pulsars, and radio astronomy. Hone your mathematical physics and numerical programming skills. Study intriguing details of Einstein's General Relativity!

Email: madisond@oxy.edu