Can People Transform Nature?
Mass Movements and Their Impacts on Environment in China

A Lecture by Dr. Li Lifeng Professor and Chair of the Politics Department, Nanjing
University
12:05 – 1:30 pm, April 12 (F),
Faculty Commons (JSC).

Specializing in grassroots politics in China, Prof. Li is the auuthor of many books and articles, including The Revolutionary Party and Rural Society (2011) and “Work Team: An Unconventional Mechanism of the State Power” (2010). The lecture is sponsored by American Studies and EALC with the support from the Remsen Bird Fund and Luce China Environmental Project.