What is this course about?

This course is an introduction into issues at the intersection of “urban” and “environment”. It is for those interested in learning more about these concepts and the path forward towards creating more just and equitable environments and cities. This course introduces students to the political, economic, and social aspects of the environment with a focus on the role of government, policy, and social change. The course is designed for students considering a UEP major and those who want to take the class because you are interested. The course is structured for us, as a group, to learn about these issues and discuss them in small groups in class. It is an opportunity for you to interact with others interested in asking and answering complex questions about our cities, the natural world, and our global context.

What are the goals of this course?

The goals of this course are to examine the idea of “environment” and how it relates to the urban context. This course explores the intersection of race, poverty, and the environment and introduces how issues of race, class, and workers’ rights interact with the environment. Finally, this course will help students begin to critically examine environmental issues and movements.

Course Requirements

Participation (25%): You are expected to do all of the course readings and keep up to date. This is a reading intensive seminar. Attendance and preparation is required. Participation in class (coming to class and being a part of it) counts for 25% of your grade. You may miss three classes for any reason. Any additional absences will result in an automatic decrease by one full letter grade (a B will become a C, for example).
Your participation in class will also be evaluated based on your ability to contribute to the class discussions as a whole. Be mindful of your own contribution but also the overall classroom dynamic. Listen attentively to others, recognize when to “step up” and “step back” to contribute to a productive discussion that enables meaningful participation by others in the class. Focus on quality over quantity when participating in class.

Reflection Paper (10%): Highland Park Walk #1; Paper prompt will be passed out in class.

Reflection and analytical paper (15%): Highland Park Walk #2 plus incorporation of class topics. Paper prompt will be passed out in class

Midterm Exam (25%): You will have a mid-term exam on Thurs. Mar. 7th. More details will be discussed in class closer to the date.

Final (25%): In-class final on Thurs. April 25th. More detail to be discussed in class.

COURSE POLICIES

Plagiarism Policy
Plagiarism consists of any form of passing off, or attempting to pass off, the knowledge or work of others as your own. It is a form of cheating. Examples of plagiarism include: unattributed quotations from a book, magazine or article; copying from the notes or essays of others; the submission of work actually written or dictated by others; and unattributed use of other people’s ideas. Remember, plagiarism includes information from books, newspapers, journals and the Internet. Plagiarism is grounds for failing the course and possible expulsion from the college. Students should consult Occidental’s student handbook for information on academic misconduct policy at the college: http://www.oxy.edu/student-handbook/academic-ethics/academic-misconduct.

Classroom Community
This course is intended to provoke discussion and new understandings of the urban environment we live in. Toward this end, the course will grapple with discussions about inequity, power, race, class, and gender. We expect our classroom to be a productive space for open, honest, and thoughtful discussion that recognizes and respects differences and acknowledges the broad range of knowledge we bring to the classroom and discussion. Please remember that our focus in this course is the issues, texts, course materials and presentations themselves, and not the personalities, identities, or opinions of other participants in the discussion.

Laptops and Cellphones
Electronic devices in the classroom limit full participation in class. In order for you to pay attention and engage in learning and minimize distractions to others, laptops are not allowed unless they are necessary for note-taking, which must receive prior approval. Cell phones and all other electronic devices are to be turned off or put on silent. Students who are not paying attention in class will be marked as absent.

Course Readings will be posted on Moodle. Please complete readings for the day they are assigned. Readings will largely follow the syllabus but are subject to some changes. Please pay attention to the Moodle site for any changes to the schedule and/or the readings.

Course Communication
The primary modes of communication for this course (outside of class meetings) will be email and Moodle. I will post course-related information on Moodle or send it to you via email, either to the class as a whole or to you as an individual. I will send these emails to the email address the college has on file for you. By 24 hours after any such email is sent, you are responsible for having the information in that email, and for taking any appropriate action based on that information (unless you have a compelling reason for not checking your email – hospitalization and incarceration are compelling reasons).

Likewise, by 24 hours after you send me an email, you can expect me to have the information contained therein and to have taken any appropriate action based on that information. This policy applies to information posted on Moodle as well.

To practice professional protocol, do not begin your email with just Hi, Hey, Yo, etc. Please address your email to me as Prof. Cha or Professor, i.e. “Dear Professor Cha, Dear Professor, Hi Professor Cha, Hi Professor” you get the idea.

Support Services
The college provides a set of resources to students to support them in learning. The Writing Center provides writing assistance to students to develop ideas, draft, and revise papers.

Students with documented disabilities who are registered with Disability Services are required to present their accommodation letter to the instructor at the beginning of each semester or as soon as possible thereafter. Any student who experiences significant physical or mental impairments may contact Disability Services at (323) 259-2969 to learn about available services and support. More information is available at http://www.oxy.edu/disability-services

The Emmons Wellness Center also provides important support services and can help you address issues of stress, medical and mental health, and overall well-being. For more information, see their website at http://www.oxy.edu/emmons-wellness-center

Accommodations for Reasons of Faith and Conscience Statement
Consistent with Occidental College’s commitment to creating an academic community that is respectful of and welcoming to persons of differing backgrounds, we believe that students should be excused from class for reasons of faith and conscience without academic consequence. While it is not feasible to schedule coursework around all days of conviction for a class as a whole, faculty will honor requests from individual students to reschedule coursework, to be absent from classes that conflict with the identified days. Information about this process is available on the ORSL website: https://www.oxy.edu/office-religious-spiritual-life.

Title IX Statement
It is important for you to know that all faculty members are mandated reporters of any incidents of sexual misconduct. That means that I cannot keep information about sexual misconduct confidential if you share that information with me.

Marianne Frapwell, the Survivor Advocate, can advise you confidentially as can counselors at Emmons Wellness Center and Rev. Susan Young, Director of the Office of Religious & Spiritual Life. You can also contact counselors at the 24/7 Hotline 323-341-4141. Marianne can also help you access other resources on campus and in the local community. You can reach Marianne at 323-259-1359 or survivoradvocate@oxy.edu and her office is in Stewart-Cleland Hall Lower Lounge.

The sexual misconduct policy, along with additional resources, can be found at: http://www.oxy.edu/sexual-respect-title-ix/policies-procedures.
