Jennifer Baidon-Carrillo '24

"Hi!! My name is Jennifer (or Jen lol) and I am a senior from Albuquerque, NM. I am a DWA and Spanish double major and a Linguistics minor. When I'm not at the Cooler or studying, I like to do all the basics like hang out with friends, go to the gym, and binge-watch comfort movies and shows-- currently watching Never Have I Ever.

This summer I am working with Professor Bolyanatz-Brown for the Spanish department. My research consists of interviewing the children and/or grandchildren of Latino immigrants in the United States. My goal is to explore how attitudes and self perception of identity and culture correlate to one's English and Spanish abilities. I would like to hear more stories and create an oral history of newer generation Latinos in the US to hypothesize what direction bilingualism is heading in the US in relation to Spanish heritage speakers. As a Latina myself who was raised the majority of my life in the US, I believe that there is a very unique experience of being from Latin descent in the US that deserves to be known and shared. I have had an amazing time getting to know people and working with my mentor. If you have any questions about my project or just want to talk, please reach out
